

Building Camps in Germany

WANTED: Volunteers for 3 months

April – May – June – July – August – September - October 2009

The International Bauorden (IBO) organizes building camps in Germany: an international group of young volunteers supports a social institution with building and renovation works. A camp lasts 2-3 weeks, and volunteers work under professional guidance for 8 hours a day.

You are an active and dedicated young volunteer? IBO offers you the opportunity to participate for three months in different work camps and, this way, to get to know different faces of Germany. You will gain insights into social projects, you get to know different regions of Germany and you will work and live in varying international groups.

During the camp, accommodation and food will be free. Everybody will pay for free time activities (e.g. during free weekends) for themselves. During the other weekends you will travel together with other volunteers to the next building camp, we will pay these travel expenses.

Interested?

You should bring:

- Willingness to do building and renovation works, up to 8 hours per working day
- Readiness to travel and to meet many new people
- Interest in Germany and in the projects
- Working clothes which may become dirty
- If possible a sleeping bag and a camping mat

We offer:

- A pocket money - 250 € in total, 50 € in the beginning, and 200 € at the end of 3 months
- 50 € for travel costs
- Insurance (Liability, Accidents and Health insurance)
- Possibly help when applying for a visa and visa costs up to 35 € (without urgency surcharge)

Send applications (letter of motivation, CV and a picture) to:

Internationaler Bauorden

Liebigstr. 23

67551 Worms

www.bauorden.de and <http://bauorden.blogspot.com>

wiemold@bauorden.de

